

Don't Miss Out On This Event!

Feb. 22-26, 2016 – Sedalia • Springfield • Mt. Grove • Jackson • Union

Make reservations now to attend the Missouri Dairy Profit Seminars, February 22-26, 2016, sponsored by the Missouri Dairy Association and the University of Missouri.

5 reasons to Attend the 2015 Missouri Dairy Profit Seminars:

- #1 Improve your dairy production.
- #2 Enhance your dairy husbandry practices.
- #3 Check your TMR with University experts.
- #4 Share ideas with other talented dairy farmers in your area.
- #5 Visit with industry experts at each location.

Registration fee is $20.00 per person payable at each location. Lunch reservations are needed. Call the Extension office listed below TODAY for lunch reservations.

Locations:

Monday, February 22, Pork Palace, State Fair Grounds, Sedalia

Tuesday, February 23, Springfield Livestock Marketing Center off I-44, Springfield

Wednesday, February 24, MSU State Fruit Research Center, Mountain Grove

Thursday, February 25, Cape Girardeau County Extension Office, 684 W. Jackson Trail, Jackson

Friday, February 26, Hagie's Nineteen, 618 North Washington, Union

Meal Reservations:

Extension Office
660/827-0591

Reagan Bluel
417/847-3161

Ted Probert
417/741-6134

Extension Office
573/243-3581

Ken Bolte
636/583-5141

Save the Date!

Missouri Dairy Profit Seminars

February 22-26, 2016

Sedalia • Springfield • Mt. Grove • Jackson • Union

www.missouridairy.org

Register today!

Keynote Speaker

Phil Cardoso

Phil Cardoso (pictured left) is an assistant professor of Animal Sciences at the University of Illinois, Urbana-Champaign, where he is conducting research and providing outreach programs in the area of dairy nutrition and reproduction. His experience with dairy farms in Brazil and the USA brings a different perspective and management skills that help him with discussions in class. His broad technical and analytical background is improved every day by the exchange of experiences he has with students, staff and world well-known professors at the U of I. Dr. Cardoso's Lab is aware of and committed to meeting the challenges of the Illinois dairy industry and dairy farmers at large. These principles give the basis for the research program and future collaborations within and outside the UI's Department of Animal Sciences. Dr. Cardoso developed an on-line platform (www.dairyfocus.illinois.edu) to convey the LAB's message through videos, articles, and social media. He obtained a PhD degree in dairy nutrition from the University of Illinois, and a Masters and DVM degrees from the College of Veterinary Medicine at Universidade Federal do Rio Grande do Sul (UFRGS) in Porto Alegre, Brazil. Dr. Cardoso was born and raised in Brazil and soon discovered his passion (dairy cows) and got involved with livestock operations in the southern part of Brazil.

Sponsored by the Missouri Dairy Association, Multimin USA and the University of Missouri

Profit Seminar Schedule

- 9:30 a.m. Registration and visit exhibitors – Coffee, milk and pastries, sponsored by Commodity Specialists Company, Missouri Corn Merchandising Council and Select Sires MidAmerica
- 9:50 a.m. Welcome
- 10:00 a.m. “Foliar Fungicide Application on Corn & its Effects on Dairy Cow Performance” –
Dr. Phil Cardoso, DVM, Department of Animal Science, University of Illinois, sponsored by Multimin USA
- 10:45 a.m. “Trace Mineral Importance to Calf Hood Immune Support” – Dr. Dan Tracy, Multimin USA
- 11:30 a.m. “Missouri Dairy Revitalization and Sponsor Recognition” – Dave Drennan, Missouri Dairy Association
- 12:15 p.m. Lunch (Bring along a sample of your TMR and UMC will evaluate)
- 1:30 p.m. “Implications of the Veterinary Feed Directive” – Dr. Scott Poock, University of Missouri
- 2:00 p.m. “How Do We Compare - 10 Key Benchmarks & How to Use Them” – Reagan Bluel, University of Missouri
- 2:30 p.m. “Impact of Feeding Amino Acids on Reproduction” – Dr. Phil Cardoso, DVM, Department of Animal Science, University of Illinois, sponsored by Multimin USA
- 3:15 p.m. Adjourn

Registration fee is $20.00 per person payable at each location.

*Lunch reservations are needed. Call the Extension office listed (other side) TODAY for reservations.

www.missouridairy.org

Feb. 22-26, 2016 – Sedalia • Springfield • Mt. Grove • Jackson • Union

1954 Sumter Ridge Court
Chesterfield, MO 63017

www.missouridairy.org

Thanks to our
Premier Sponsor
Multimin USA

